

Arm

In clinical research this refers to any of the treatment groups in a randomised trial. Many randomised trials have two 'arms' or groups, but some may have three or even more.