

Bacteriology

A subdivision of microbiology that involves the identification, classification, and characterisation of bacteria.