

Clinician-reported outcome [ClinRO]

A type of outcome assessment determined by a trained health-care professional after observation of a patient's health condition.