

Dear Doctor Letter

Dear Doctor letters are correspondence – often in the form of a mass mailing from the marketing authorisation holder of a human medicine or biologic – intended to alert doctors and other healthcare providers about important new or updated information regarding a marketed medicine or biologic.

Such information about medicinal products may emerge throughout a product's life cycle.