

Off label use

Off-label use refers to situations where a medicinal product is intentionally used for a medical purpose other than what is stated in the authorised product information, i.e. the Summary of Product Characteristics (SmPC).

Examples of off-label use include non-authorised:

- indication,
- age group,
- dosage, or
- route of administration.