

Prophylactic vaccine

Preventative (prophylactic) vaccines are substances that prepare the immune system to fight pathogens and provide immunity to a disease.