

Relative effectiveness

clinical

It can be defined as the extent to which an intervention does more good than harm compared to one or more alternative interventions for achieving the desired results, when provided under the usual circumstances of health care practice.