

Site visit

A visit by agency officials, representatives of the sponsor, or consultants to the location of a research activity (e.g. a clinical trial site) to assess if the site is fully prepared for the protection of trial participants and the safe and successful conduct of the clinical trial.