

Tolerability

The tolerability of the medicinal product represents the degree to which adverse effects can be 'tolerated' or accepted by a patient.